Indianapolis Star Newspaper writer Robin Miller surprised everyone by qualifying as the fourth fastest driver.

Bob Wentz gave us all a scare by flipping onto the front stretch retaining wall, bending and breaking his roll cage.
Wentz suffered only minor injuries.

On the first lap of the semi-feature, Dave Wunrow (43x) was hit, causing his car to skate across the track in front of the oncoming herd of midgets. Several drivers took evasive action and avoided the mishap, however Scot Ritchert (96) wasn't so lucky and made heavy contact with Wunrow. Neither driver was injured.
